Workplace Communication

Why ESOL Training?

Putting the learner front and centre.

With all our courses we aim to create a feeling of whanaugatanga, a sense of belonging and connection to each other with a common purpose behind their time with us. We have a focus on results, achieved by recognising the mana of each individual; their contribution and experience, so programmes may need to adapt from this proposal to tailor teaching for understanding. All tutors and staff are keen to create an environment of manaakitanga and care. Respecting the kaitiakitanga of the organisations we are working in.

Delivery

We come to you but can also work from select locations throughout the country if required. Booked for groups of a min 8 participants, 2 hour sessions x 12 at a time that works for your organisation.
